

For starters, we built it.

Every nut. Every bolt, balancer, pulley and piston. In fact, each and every component that goes into your Volkswagen. Our highly skilled technicians are experts on them all.

It is this intimate knowledge that makes servicing your Volkswagen at an authorised Volkswagen Dealership an imperative. Our tools and equipment have been specially developed to work on your car. And, we use only genuine parts that are designed and tested to meet original equipment standards, so that your Volkswagen remains a Volkswagen.

Not only does this ensure your Volkswagen is safe and roadworthy, but also helps to retain your vehicle's full trade-in value. After all, what we put in is what you should get out.
